

NEW PHOSPHATE PLANT AT ANDRES

The above picture is of the new phosphate plant just completed at Andres, which is located on Route 45 and the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Northern Pacific railroad. This is the first of such a plant in this large area. This plant enables farmers to come direct to the plant and get the phosphate for their land. Previous to this, the rock phosphate was shipped in sacks, and the sacks would have to be emptied into the spreader.

Henry Koenning of Peotone is manager of this new company called the Peotone-Andres Phosphate company. This plant is a silo, built of concrete, 50 feet high, 20 feet wide with a capacity of 13 car loads, which is equivalent of 700 tons. The company receives the ground phosphate direct from the strip mine at Cornet, Fla.

There are only four states in which rock phosphate is available, Tennessee, Florida, Washington and Idaho.

Facilities for loading and unloading are all mechanical and are available to all farmers and phosphate haulers. The individual farmer can bring his own truck to be loaded with phosphate and use the company tractor drawn spreader, or he can order direct from the company for immediate delivery and service of the phosphate. With modern methods of loading, hauling and spreading the farmer has better access to the material for fertilizer than under the old methods of distribution.

Where nine rural schools were in operation last year, there will be four in session this coming term in both the Cretes and Beecher community unit districts formed recently.

This report was made to the Will county school survey committee at a meeting held recently at the courthouse in Joliet.

From the Beecher district, youngsters will go to the Beecher grade school and from the Cretes district, either the Cretes or Monee grade schools.

The one-room schools to be operated throughout the two districts are to be re-modeled, it was reported. In addition to the rural schools, the districts will operate the schools in the city as well as the high school in each district.

Frankfort Board Cooperates For Rabies Control

At the Village Board meeting Monday night, in Frankfort, it was voted to cooperate with the Will county authorities for the control of rabies. Officials of the state, city of Joliet, township and county plan to meet in the Will county Health department offices tomorrow afternoon to plan a county wide rabies control. According to Dr. R. L. Kleinhoffer, acting county health officer, the session is being held to set up a program of inoculation clinics in future years to avert any outbreak of rabies as is evident in the Joliet and county area now.

Frankfort plans to post the rabies signs, issued by the State Agriculture department, on all roads leading into the village and also in the village. The state laws call for all dogs to be confined in an enclosure from which an escape is impossible, or if taken out, then must be on a leash.

Frankfort is planning to amend their dog ordinance, making it necessary that a dog must be inoculated for rabies before a dog license can be issued.

Because complaints have come to the village authorities concerning young boys shooting air rifles in the village orders were given to Officer Fred Breyner, to enforce the village ordinance preventing shooting in the village limits of all kinds.

Because the next regular village board meeting will fall on Labor Day, it was decided to change that date to Friday, September 10.

The judges will be Sue Boudreau, Kankakee; Helen Elliott, LaSalle County; Nora Bare, Grundy county; and Donovan Hester, Kankakee.

The college girls will have a separate Dress Revue to compete in the dress revue for college girls at the State Fair.

The foods and room improvement projects may be combined or exhibited separately. Each girl enrolled in these projects must help arrange the booths. The demonstrations will be from 5 to 10 minutes long.

The club leaders and the county personnel hope that mothers of the club girls and anyone interested in 4-H work will attend the 4-H Show on August 7.

MOKENA MAN IN AUTO ACCIDENT

While Gordon Benson, 23, of Mokena was driving to his place of employment at the Lumber Company in Bradley, Tuesday morning, he was injured in an auto accident. Benson was driving south on route 45, about 7 o'clock in the morning, and when he came to the Peotone road, at the intersection, he was hit broadside by a car going west driven by George H. Wischover, 64, of Peotone.

The impact threw the Benson car and driver 10 feet in the air on a telephone pole. As this was near the Andres grain elevator, help was available at once from that source. They called the ambulance and state police. Responding were Patrolman Gus Hendrickson and Jack Carlstrom.

Both Benson and Wischover were taken to Silver Cross hospital where it was found that Benson's left hip was out of joint. It was set by Dr. E. G. McMahon Tuesday. He also had a deep cut on his left arm which required four stitches, and his whole body is bruised. His left eye is swollen shut.

Mr. Wischover had 12 stitches taken on the back of his head, a fractured right shoulder, and a possible fracture of the hip.

Mr. Benson was married a month ago, and his wife who is employed in Chicago was notified, as well as his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Anton Benson in Mokena. His brothers, Edwin and Jander in Rockford were called and came at once.

Local Loan Note for Oats set at 72c

The Will county loan rate for 1948 oats grading No. 3 or better has been set at 72 cents per bushel, according to an announcement issued by Mr. Conrad Borms, Acting chairman of the Local AAA Committee.

"Farmers", he said, "may take advantage of this price protection by either executing a loan or entering into a purchase agreement. Both programs will be available through December 31, 1948 and apply to both farm-stored and warehouse-stored oats. The maturity date is April 30, 1949 or earlier on demand."

The committeeman pointed out that most farmers through past experience are somewhat familiar with the manner in which loans are executed. "Under this program," he said, "a loan is actually made and the farmer pays interest on the money extended at the rate of 3 percent. The producer may either pay off the loan on or before the maturity date or he may elect to deliver or turn over the oats to Commodity Credit Corporation."

The purchase agreement on the other hand offers price protection without the necessity of actually executing a loan. The producer merely completes a certificate at the AAA office stating the maximum amount of oats he wishes to have covered by the program. He is free to use and sell all or any part of the grain as he sees fit. However, the agreement stipulates that if the farmer has not disposed of his oats before the maturity date, he may, if he desires, deliver them (up to the maximum amount indicated on the certificate) to Commodity Credit Corporation and receive a price corresponding to the loan delivery rate. It is required though that delivery be made during the 30 day period following the maturity date and that the producer give due and proper notice of his intention to deliver under the program.

According to Mr. Borms, no storage allowance will accumulate under the Oat Program. In the case of warehouse storage a deduction of 7 cents per bushel will be made from the applicable loan rate unless evidence is submitted showing that all warehouse charges, except receiving charge, have been prepaid through April 30, 1949. "From this standpoint," he said, "the Oat Program is more favorable to farm storage. It ties in slightly with the broader aspect of the entire grain storage problem and the increased emphasis now being placed upon the need for farmers to begin building up more adequate grain storage facilities."

Mr. Borms also stated that both programs are to be handled locally by the AAA Committee. "Detailed procedures," he said, "have now been received and any individual desiring further information with respect to the programs should not hesitate to make inquiry. Moderate service fees are required under both programs. For loans the maximum charge is one cent per bushel with a minimum of $3.00. On purchase agreements the cost is 1/2 cent per bushel on the quantity specified or $1.50 whichever is the larger."

The 1948 over all national average oat loan rate is 70 cents a bushel as compared to 63 cents during 1947. Current rates were determined on the basis of parity price as of April 15, 1948 with some adjustment to reflect feeding value as compared to corn. The intent is to reflect 70 percent of parity to producers. In view of the fact that oats are neither a basic nor a Steagall commodity it was not necessary to establish the rate at the 90 percent support level required for some of the other major crops.

Town and Country Fashions

By VI VENNETTI

Suddenly it was Summer—and the stampede for warm weather fashions is on. A most interesting trend is sweeping the resorts both solar and polar—one that will leave it's mark not only on the summer still in our midst, but on the calendar ahead. Dresses almost to the point of fussiness is the new rule for almost all hours of the day and night. And as a result of this wave of femininity, trousers are out—excepting or sports active and spectator. Dresses and skirts are in. Here is a change in scene of significant interest to the gal who will be in fashion.

Career girls—keep in mind the Pretty-look Brides are not the only ones who like nice lingerie. Cotton lingerie that is easy to launder and in the budget, priced to fit both you and the purse. Cotton slips are in the fashion news after many years, petticoats, sleepwear, sheer printed pastels in batiste; solid white petticoats with dainty embroidery, tyelet or beading trims some white with a deep eyelet flounce and pink beading.

Tre deep flounce is gaining popularity in nighties, slips and housecoats. Dark summer dresses Eyful makes a dark organdy petticoat with an over-over pattern of white embroidery, and by the way the tuck-in camisole we mentioned is really going to Town.

Cotton Fashions so Thrilling. We're thrilled by the summer dress collections, and we don't mind telling the world about it. We've never seen prettier summer dresses in all our long years in the fashion business. Believe it or not, the prettiest of them are all in cotton, and they look different than any cotton fashions we've seen before. In fact, we think that this year's cottons have reached their apotheosis! In looking at these fashions that have been developed by the top designers, one ceases to identify these as cottons, and thinks of them only as beautiful fabrics.

Loveliest of all perhaps is organdy staging a triumphant fashion return via the fine imported Swiss organdies that are once more arriving in this country. Organdy in white, pastels and smart dark colors used in both daytime and cocktail dresses.

These beautiful organdies typify better than anything else the marked swing to the very feminine yet very sophisticated cotton dress. Even casual cotton dresses and play dresses are both feminized and formalized. —the summer bare-backed adds drama with either a bolero or sweeping stole. —the linen Town suit forsakes it's classic past and becomes the smartest of the smart with its wide flaring skirt and a fitted jacket. —the pretty afternoon dress of flowered cotton is a real garden party dress. —the former cabana dress has grown up and is the sophisticated summer cocktail dress—variously called the Sundowner or Patio.

Dinner and evening gown are breath-taking in their loveliness and very formal in their effect, especially when exciting fabrics such as the Lurx gingham are used. We think that the summer of 1948 will go down in fashion history as the year in which cotton was King or better, Queen.

Keep your eagle eye on these Town and Country fashions: —summer suits with matching bras. —emphasis on stripes and plaids. —drapery in day and beach wear. —pique trims. —long torso look, back fullness to skirts. —orset waistlines giving high Empire waists.

How to put your budget over, whoop we mean keep your budget from showing! It must be the humidity, what we really mean—How to be in fashion and go easy on the budget. All! Got it this time.

1. Look the field over. (nearest shop you feel that the sales person is really interested in your appearance.)
 2. Model Ideas. (she calls you to tell you it's modeled or you, not Mrs. So and so looks good in it. Who wants to be known as a copy-cat?)
 3. Time and the place. (the time is NOW, and the place is here, Today.)
 4. Setting the scene, the backdrop—Home, club, at work a very special evening with that new man with the Bold Look we've been hearing about or maybe not a new man but the tried and true one all polished up and his Bold look working overtime (time and a half?)
 5. Lights and music. You don't have to have music (it helps.) The lights in your hair (Frances) and the lights in his eyes make the effort that you and the gal strive for (whom your appearance means that she is your best friend and always likes to see you looking your best, salesperson, dress-maker etc.) It's a grand feeling when your audience cries for more.
- And so like the old time actor says, "leave them hungry" so we advise you to make them hungry for the sight of you in Your Own Fashion Show.

TREES NEED GOOD SUMMER 'DRINKS' TO SLAKE THIRST

Watering trees seems like such a simple chore. Yet many home owners fail to do it properly. Brief daily watering or sprinkling is entirely inadequate particularly during the hot, dry weather prevailing in July, August and September, according to Billy White, field representative of the Davey Tree Expert Co.

Thorough soaking once or twice a week, depending upon the weather, is a must. The home owner would be well advised to adjust his hose or small sprinkler to run very slowly, allowing for complete saturation.

The practice of brief daily watering wets only the surface and encourages shallow root growth, as roots will turn upward seeking moisture. It is most important that the entire root system which is at least equal to the spread, be saturated.

Systematic watering is necessary with well-established home trees. It is even more vital with newly planted trees. In transplanting, the tree's root system is restricted and the area of ground from which it can obtain moisture is greatly limited.

For two or three years, newly planted trees need great assistance from the home owner. This is especially true when they have been taken from natural environments in grove or forest. There soil retains moisture for long periods. Under artificial conditions, a tree must depend upon outside help during dry periods.

An exhibition softball game played by crew members of the Navy ships USS Johnston, USS Rush and USS Fresno on their recent goodwill visit to Dublin, Ireland, raised 11091 pounds (about $4,364 for Irish charity.)

The U.S. Naval Supply Depot on Trinidad, British West Indies, maintains its own self-supporting tropical plantation, on which are grown tropical fruits and vegetables for the use of American military personnel on the island.

The straw hat sewing machine used by the Lee hat company was invented in 1865.

PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY OF NORTHERN ILLINOIS

Increase of Power Users Call For New Supply Source

On several occasions recently, the power demands on the system of Public Service Company of Northern Illinois and associated utilities serving 600 northern Illinois cities and towns have approximately equalled the system's available capacity.

The resulting lack of reserve capacity has caused the system to undertake a survey among 7,000 larger industrial and commercial customers to ascertain their minimum power requirements in the event of temporary electricity shortages.

The shortage in reserve capacity, which is common to most large industrial areas of the country, results from circumstances beyond the control of the company. These include a continuing rise in electricity use, the inability to add sufficient new generating capacity due to war restrictions and postwar limitations, and the withdrawal of apparatus from service for necessary overhauling.

Demand on the system have increased 778,000 kilowatts, or 48 per cent, since 1940, while additions to generating capacity have been limited to slightly over 420,000 kw—all that could be added during the war and immediate postwar period.

The system now has under construction or on order 557,000 kw of new generating capacity and another 100,000 kw planned, but it will take from 9 months to 3 1/2 years to complete the various installations involved in the $400,000,000 expansion program, largest in history.

The survey—termed a "precautionary measure due to the tight capacity situation"—will cover all customers served by Public Service Company, Commonwealth Edison Company (Chicago), Western United Gas and Electric Company, and Illinois Northern Utilities Company.

The present shortage of reserve capacity is expected to continue until at least the spring of 1949 when the next big generating unit in the system's multi-million dollar expansion program is scheduled for completion.

According to the company, everything possible is being done to prevent a power emergency. However, it was pointed out that facilities which have operated almost continuously throughout the war and postwar period may break down. In this event, it might be necessary to temporarily curtail power to larger users during peak hours in order to protect electricity supply to the general public and essential community services. Peak hours occur during varying times between 9 a. m. and 6 p. m.

The survey is of a preliminary and exploratory nature to ascertain what can be done with least inconvenience to larger power users in case of temporary shortages before new generating capacity is installed and in service.

The old Latin word for money—"pecunia," from which we get our word "pecuniary"—came from "pecus," meaning cattle.

SCRIPTURE: Jeremiah 38:1-39:18. DEVOTIONAL READING: Matthew 25:31-46.

Ebed-Melech, The Ethiopian

Lesson for August 8, 1948

ARE you ready for a real story? Then turn to Jeremiah 38, and read on to verse 18 in the 39th chapter. This interesting story reveals a hero, Ebed-melech, by name, which means "the king's slave." This may have been his official title rather than his personal name. Anyway, he is the hero of our story, and a very admirable hero, indeed. He was a Negro, and Ethiopian eunuch, in charge of the king's chambers. Zedekiah, as the story reveals, held Ebed-melech in high esteem. He was, obviously, a most honorable man. How he had come to know Jeremiah, and to esteem him so highly, is a subject for profitable contemplation. The devotional reading, Matthew 25:31-46, offers final opinion on the value of Ebed-melech's ministry to Jeremiah. The golden text, "As we have therefore opportunity, let us do good unto all men," Galatians 6:10.

JEREMIAH'S FRIEND

E BED-MELECH was Jeremiah's friend. When he saw what the princes had done to Jeremiah, he went to the king and begged him to allow him to draw Jeremiah out of the mire in the dark dungeon. He knew that Jeremiah would soon die in this awful place, and Ebed-melech risked his life in making the request to rescue Jeremiah. The wonder is that the princes had not ordered Ebed-melech slain. Evidently, they recognized the hand of God.

Like as this Negro servant in the long ago served God by rendering kindness to a man of another race, so may we today serve God and civilization by good will and kindly service to all races.

FREEDOM THROUGH A SLAVE

THE story of Ebed-melech's kindness to Jeremiah lifts to ennobling example the act of a slave on behalf of freedom. The world's benefactors are those who understand freedom, and cast themselves in utter self-forgetfulness into the struggle for right against wrong.

What had Jeremiah done to receive such harsh treatment? He had delivered God's message to the people of Jerusalem, warning them that the city would be taken by the Chaldeans, and how they might escape destruction. Jeremiah was proclaiming freedom—not always a popular course. For this effort to help the people, he was thrown into the muddy dungeon. This servant of the king was the only man in Jerusalem who understood the purpose of Jeremiah.

A FRIEND INDEED

GRANTED permission from the king to rescue Jeremiah, Ebed-melech devised prompt methods of letting down old pieces of rope and rags, telling Jeremiah how to fasten them under his arms, and with the aid of thirty men drew him up from the mire, and brought him into the court of the prison.

And then God spoke words of great reward to Jeremiah on behalf of Ebed-melech. "But I will deliver thee in that day, saith the Lord; and thou shalt not be given into the hand of the men of whom thou art afraid. For I will surely deliver thee, and thou shalt not fall by the sword, but thy life shall be for a prey unto thee, because thou hast put thy trust in me, saith the Lord."

WHO SIDES WITH GOD

E BED-MELECH'S noble ministry to Jeremiah lifts up a banner for every true follower of the Lord. Who sides with God must always win. That is the lesson of the lesson. We should never have known about this Negro, had he not cast his all on the side of God.

"Who sides with God must always win, No cause to him is lost."

Social People

It seems clear to me that God designed us to live in society—just as He has given the bees the honey; and as our social system could not subsist without the sense of justice and injustice, He has given us the power to acquire that sense.

Voltaire. Our Creator would never have made such lovely days, and have given us the deep hearts to enjoy them, above and beyond all thought, unless we were meant to be immortal.—Hawthorne.

Christianity is not a theory or speculation, but a life and a living process.—Coleridge.

Uncle Sam Says

What would you do if you learned that the worker next to you at the office or in the plant was taking home extra pay every payday and you could do the same? Your Uncle Sam needs only one guess. Well, the Payroll Savings Plan for Savings Bonds actually provides extra pay because it accumulates Savings Bonds for you which pay off at the rate of $4 for every $3 in 10 years. All you have to do is to authorize your employer to hold back a stipulated amount which he will hand back to you in a better form of money—money which earns interest.—U. S. Savings Bonds. Savings Bonds are extra pay. For example if you take part of your pay in Savings Bonds at the rate of $3.25 per week, the Bonds become $2,163.45 in 10 years.

Testings are for Soil Survey Map

Several farmers in recent weeks have reported to the Farm Bureau office the fact that strange men were ticularly in the southeastern part of walking over a good many farms, particularly the county, apparently taking soil samples.

It is assumed by Farm Bureau officials that these men are explaining to farmers the purpose of their work. They represent the University of Illinois and the Soil Conservation Service and are making soil borings for the purpose of determining the characteristics of the various soil types found in the county by areas and in addition are renaming all Will county soils with the latest nomenclature.

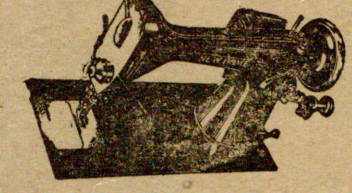

It will take approximately two years to cover the entire county. As soon as possible after this is done, a new soil map of Will county will be published. Such a soils book has been needed for a good many years. In view of the fact that so many different soil types are found in Will county.

The Low Down From Hickory Grove

To start off my lecture with a bang and get to the meat of the ciconut quick, I claim there has been too much peeking-away at business—too much ranting and rave—too much loose insinuations.

Mediocre people have been getting themselves elected—and a nice salary—by being "down" with something. Being "down" on business, especially if it is big or a success, has been a good vehicle. I don't give a hoot about votes—don't need to fool anybody—am not running for Congress, playground supt., or any job where the expense account is liberal or there is a free car. I am independent as a pig in clover—so keep on readin'—maybe I will say something.

Everybody is for free enterprise and private business—but kinda forgets it at times. Everybody has fire insurance of some kind—also life insurance. There would be no money to pay for your fire losses when your house burns down, or pay life benefits if there was no corporations or business in which the insurance people could invest and earn interest.

Every mama and papa should stir themselves if they want their off-shoot to grow up and have a chance to show his calibre and ability and to prosper in proportion to his effort. Off-shoots can't do that in countries of Big Govt.—and where private business is elbowed around, and out.

Yours with the low down,
JO SERRA

Think Your Taxes High? Compare Them With Other Cities

The high cost of local government to property owners in Cook county this year should give some measure of comfort to downstate taxpayers who have been bawling their current tax bills, according to a survey of property tax rates made by the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois.

Even the $2.84 tax rate in East St. Louis, which is the highest in the ten largest cities downstate, trails far behind the total rate of $3.212 paid by taxpayers with property in School District 161 in Chicago Heights. This means that the tax bill on a home valued at $10,000 in this school district in Chicago Heights this year was $321.20. The total tax rate on property in School District 170 in Chicago Heights was $3.04, and in School District 167 it was $2.73.

Oak Park, which lays claim to being the largest village in the world, may soon be able to claim the highest tax rate in Illinois. Its tax rate of $3.076 is $1.6c higher this year than it was last. This increase of $1.60 in the tax bill on a $10,000 house was the greatest increase in any municipality over 20,000 population in the state.

Maywood taxpayers with property in the West Maywood Park District were also hit in the pocketbook with a tax rate of over $3.00.

The lowest tax rate in any municipality of over 20,000 population in Cook county was $2.56 in that part of Cicero with no park district tax. Compared to that, the next to the highest tax rate among the ten largest cities downstate was $2.41 in Decatur.

The tax rate in the city of Chicago was $2.872 higher than the highest tax rate among the 10 largest cities outside of Cook county.

The first American to engage in meat packing was William Pynchon, of Springfield, Mass., who in 1655 started to drive cattle to Boston.

EVERETT MITCHELL

Farm Commentator, heard Monday through Saturday, 6:15-6:45 a.m. on WMAQ, Chicago, 670 on your dial.

ALREADY some of us are scratching around closets, dragging out rusty old shotguns, wiping dust off, oiling, cleaning and installing new sights. Why? A look at your calendar will tell you the autumn hunting season is not many weeks off.

This set us to wondering how game quantity will be this year. Hunters can help game before they set out for the woods. Here are a few suggestions that may make better hunting and fishing in the future.

Young rabbits, which you'll be looking for as game next fall, are fascinated by highways, and of course they get the idea to hop across the road at the most unexpected moments. Unless motorists cautiously slow up when they appear, scores of thousands of young rabbits will die accidentally between now and the hunting season. Wildlife specialists suggest blinking car lights at them after dark to shoo them off the roads.

Roving dogs can and do flush many game birds off their nests at night. Strangely, setting birds cannot find their way back to their nests until the following day. By that time the eggs chill and won't hatch. That means the loss of whole flocks of bobwhites, grouse or ring-necks. So tie up your dogs at night.

The cat population has grown by leaps and bounds. Many people dispose of "excess" felines by driving out in the country at night and dumping them in the woods. These cats make out just fine—living on valuable insect-eating birds and other small wildlife. They are just as destructive as wildcats are to larger animals.

One of the greatest killers of small fish is the water snake. By destroying water snakes, you'll be making better fishing for yourself. Help conserve wildlife while you may... and save your game killing for the official hunting season.

TO CELEBRATE 28TH ANNIVERSARY OF WOMAN'S SUFFRAGE WITH HUGE PAGEANT AND STYLE SHOW

A capacity crowd of 2500 is expected to witness the pageant and style show celebrating the 28th anniversary of Woman Suffrage in America at the second annual Republican Women's Holiday to be held Wednesday, August 25 at Sportsmen's Golf Course, Northbrook, Ill.

Under the direction of Irene B. Reidy, chairman of the Women's Division of the Republican Central Committee of Cook county, and Mrs. Alverta Stewart, chairman of Country Towns, Republican women throughout the county are collecting costumes and clothes with the "old look" of 100 years ago and preparing to model them in the pageant.

Prominent women such as Mary Berkemeier Quinn, Public Guardian of Cook county; Mrs. Bertha Baur, National Committeewoman for Illinois; Mrs. Mabel Reinecke, Election Commissioner; Mrs. Helen Griffin, chairman, Women's division, Republican State Central Committee; and Mrs. Elvira Strand, Township Committeewoman of Bloom Township, all of whom actually pioneered for the passage of the 19th Amendment granting women the right to vote in 1920, are expected to be present, modeling original fashions of that period, carrying banners, waving flags etc., that were part of the women's suffrage campaign.

The "old look" pageant will be climaxed with a modern Fashion Show produced by the Charles A. Stevens Department store.

Mrs. Reidy and Mrs. Stewart are scouring the country for the oldest Republican women to whom they wish to pay special honor on August 25. They are asking particularly that all "Rainy Day" paraders, those who took part in the Suffrage Parade in June 1716 down Michigan Avenue in the rain to the Coliseum, get in touch with them at Suite 816, 155 North Clark street. Telephone is Central 7802.

Mrs. Reidy and Mrs. Stewart are also conducting a Cinderella Hunt for the oldest Republican woman whose feet will fit a pair of laced-top, beaded shoes worn at the first Woman Suffrage meeting 100 years ago.

Speakers at the outing will be C. Wayland Brooks, U. S. Senator; Dwight H. Green, Governor of Illinois; Malachy J. Coghlan, Republican candidate for State's Attorney of Cook county; and Harry G. Hershenson, Republican candidate for Chief Justice of the Municipal Court of Chicago.

Cards, golf and games will provide recreation for the holiday. National groups will present a program of national folk dances. Johnny Roberts, left-handed golf champion, of the Allied Golf Corporation will demonstrate trick shot for golfers. Members of the Grandmothers Club, of which Mrs. Rose Dyvig is president, will present songs and dances in costumes of their day. Dinner will be served from 3 in the afternoon until 8 in the evening.

A recent applicant to enlist in the Navy was a determined young man. Told that he could not qualify because the little finger on his right hand was paralyzed, he had the finger amputated and re-applied. He got in.

If Social Calendar Is Busy, Make Your Glamour Clothes

By Ertta Haley

GIRLS who are getting out of school invariably find their social calendars full to overflowing these days and this calls for rather a sizeable investment in what they refer to as glamour togs.

No average family budget can stand the strain of this because there is necessarily an outlay for clothing for other members of the family. But if mother and daughter take to the needle or sewing machine, they can turn out two or three formal that will do the trick.

A formal may look especially tricky but for those of you who never have sewed one, the news is a wonderful surprise. It's much easier than you think.

First of all, the fabrics you choose are among the easiest to sew. Organdie, eyelet and even tulle just all seem to go where you want them to while you run them on the machine or let the needle traverse the penciled or basted lines.

If you are inexperienced, choose one of the simpler designs and ask someone who knows whether the material you are working with will let itself be readily molded into something beautiful under your inexperienced fingers.

Stay away from severe fitted dresses that look deceptively easy. They require a fitting skill that demands years of experience.

Don't Let Full Skirts Or Ruffles Trouble You

If full skirts and ruffles look tough to tackle, relax. Full skirts are easy, as you'll undoubtedly see when you run a basting stitch through the material and try to gather it.

Ruffles are easy, too, and if you have a ruffler attachment on the sewing machine, these are true simplicity. If you're the sweet feminine Graduation dresses and formals... type, you'll find that ruffles are just the thing this season, but don't attempt the really elaborate treatment of them—not so much because the ruffles are hard to make but because it's sometimes difficult to insert them when they're placed in small triangles along the back of the skirt.

However, ruffle trimming along the hem, or around the sleeves or neckline can be managed easily. They should be hemmed before you ruffle, of course.

Swishy taffeta and faille are among the materials you also will be using. Neither of them is difficult to handle if you are careful about basting, and this is extremely essential as they tend to slip.

If your budget can't afford a formal, it would be simplicity itself to make one of those large full skirts, and then to buy an intricate Gibson girl blouse to complete the picture.

Are pretty in eyelet or organdie. This type of skirt can, of course, be worn with several different kind of tops, and that may be all you need for your dates.

Practical Net Skirt Worn Three Ways

A full skirt of black or white net can be very practical. The skirt itself should be four to five yards wide, with four or five rows of gathers at the waist. It should be finished with a firm belt.

The first frothy topping for this skirt may be of net which is shirred closely to the bodice. Finish with straps of wide ribbon or a rhinestone band.

The second topping may be made of taffeta. This should be chosen in your best color. The same material may be made into bows and tacked with tiny stitches to the skirt.

The third top may be made of net, crossing the front and back to give you a V neckline. A large flower worn at the shoulder is all that is needed to complete the costume.

The main thing to remember in sewing net is that it will ravel and should, therefore, be finished at the seams with double stitching and at the hemline with a similar treatment.

Glamour Frock

With commencement parties and dances ahead, you'll want variety in glamour clothes. You can solve the problem by taking to your sewing machine and avoid running into budget difficulties. The above dress is a nice style for gayhearted occasions. It's a demure full-skirted dress of crisp, white eyelet embroidered cotton.

The slip worn under it may be of taffeta or rayon to match.

The slip does not have to be as full as the skirt, but it must be of closely woven heavy material.

Select Simple Trimming For Formal Dress

There is a variety of trimmings to use for dressy dresses and there are several types practical for home sewing.

Applique is one of them, and if you can stitch neatly, there is nothing nicer for a bouffant frock of organdie. Use flowers that will go well with the color of your frock and use them on the wide, full skirt.

If you like shirring, this may be done on the gathering foot or ruffler attachment. Finger your material, and be assured first whether it will hang well, whether it will be limp or bouffant before you actually start the work.

Bows, of course, may be used on youthful frocks and are very effective. Finished ribbon, carefully tied and tacked, can lend a dramatic air to a bouffant frock.

If you have chosen one of the ankle length frocks, a full taffeta slip with a ruffled edging peeking underneath it is all the fashion interest you actually need. Ribbons are being used, run through eyelet on slip trimmings to give them an old fashioned air.

Your wrap may be a short coat in one of the lovely pastels. When you select it, make certain it will be of good daytime use.

WHITE'S THE THING

It's a white blouse season, but if you think all of them are trimmed with ruffles, look again. These are distinctly tailored blouses in sleek fabrics such as poplin, broadcloth and linen. You'll see sleeve fullness, gathered close at the wrist, dolman sleeves, standing collars or none at all.

Be Smart!

Watch those dolman-type sleeves in many variations and degrees of depth and fullness, a pretty counter-balance to wide skirts. These sleeves are particularly effective in bright lightweight wools and spun rayons.

Leaving Keys In Car Makes Owner Liable

Due to a recent Illinois appellate court decision in which the owner was held liable for damage done by his stolen car, Harry Meloy, Illinois Agricultural Association attorney, advised farmers to remove ignition keys when leaving cars or trucks unattended. Failure to do so may result in your receiving a liability which your auto insurance policy may not cover.

Meloy pointed out that most insurance policies protect the owner against liability for injury or death to third persons whenever the car is operated by the insured or with the consent of the insured or any adult member of his family. Obviously a thief is not driving your car with your permission.

The recent decision involves a man who left his car on a Chicago street with the key in the ignition. When he returned, the car was stolen. Meanwhile the thief in fleeing from the scene of the theft, collided with another car. The driver of this car, instead of suing the thief, sued the owner of the stolen car. The court decided against the owner.

The court stated that the law prohibiting the leaving of keys in unattended cars is intended to protect the public and not the owner of the car; that anyone in charge of a car has the duty to reasonably foresee that if he leaves the car unattended with the ignition key in place it may be readily stolen, and that a thief in his effort to escape from the scene of the theft may have no greater regard for traffic regulations than he had for the criminal statute making it a felony to steal a car.

C & O's "Train X" Cars Lower Center of Gravity

The Chesapeake and Ohio Railway's "Train X" will be made up of short, low-slung cars of fuselage type like the full-scale model shown above on exhibit at the Chicago Railroad Fair.
"Train X," designed for speeds up to 150 miles per hour, is the most radical departure from conventional rail equipment since George Pullman placed the first parlor car in operation in 1875.
Passengers will ride two and-half feet nearer the rails, and the under part of the cars is only 20 1/2 inches from the rails, as measured here by Miss Alice Gates of Chicago. Cars are about 31 feet long, only one-third the length of conventional cars, and have a single pair of wheels at the rear. The forward end of each car is coupled to a preceding unit, and the entire train will form an integrated unit with the center of gravity lowered by 13 inches. A test model of the train is expected to be on the rails by 1950.

Cook County Queen Contest on For

Policemen of Chicago's South Side and the southern suburbs are vying for honors with pretty girls of the area in the contest to select the Queen of Cook county.

The men in blue all seem to want places on the board of judges of the Illinois Police Association which will select the winner of the coveted title.

Meanwhile, hundreds of girls from the southern towns of Cook County and Chicago's South side have registered for the semi-finals in which Miss South County will be chosen to compete against semi-finalists from the western and northern areas.

Among those is Miss Edythe Wick-ersham, 18, of 54 East 151st St., Harvey, an attractive brown-eyed brown-ette.

The queen and her court will reign over the 1948 Cook county Fair at Soldier Field from August 27 through September 6 and will have a part in Bing Crosby's mammoth water follies, "Rhapsody in Swimtime," the fair's stellar entertainment attraction.

Any girl between the ages of 16 and 25 may enter the contest by sending her photograph in a bathing suit to the Illinois Police Association, 105 West Adams St., Chicago.

Under administrative control of the Office of Naval Research, 29 non-governmental scientific agencies will spend $1,300,000 conducting biological and medical research projects for the Atomic Energy Commission.

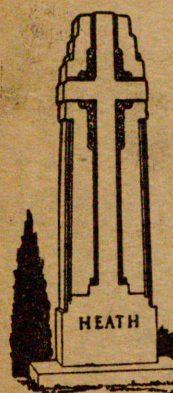

Before the establishment of standard time on November 18, 1883, American railroads were using about 100 different standards of time.

Security—future plans will belong to other fellows like Pop unless you count yourself in with United States Savings Bonds.

Broil them to whatever stage your family prefers, then serve with broiled mushroom caps, tiny whole potatoes and green asparagus stalks.

MEAT CUT Quiz

Q. What is the name of this cut of meat?

A. This is a beef club steak.

Q. Where does the cut come from and how is it identified?

A. The club steak comes from the short loin of beef. It is the smallest steak in the full loin (it is often used for an individual serving portion) and lies next to the rib roast of beef. As such, it does not have the "tail" and the tenderloin muscle characteristic of the larger porterhouse and T-bone steaks. The eye muscle is predominant, and the steak usually has a semi-circular or half-moon appearance, with the meat all on one side of the bone. The meat is tender and delicious, as in all steaks.

Q. How should this cut be prepared?

A. Like all tender cuts, the club steak is broiled. The meat should be at least one inch thick, and thicker if desired. Slash the fat around the edges so the steak will not "curl" during cooking. Place the steak on a broiler rack so the surface of the meat is about 2 or 3 inches from the heat. Broil until the top of the meat is brown (for medium steaks: 10 minutes for a 1-inch steak, 15 minutes for a 1½-inch steak, 22 minutes for a 2-inch steak.) Season with salt and pepper, turn and brown on the other side, allowing about the same length of time. Season and serve at once.

Tinley 20—Worth 3 At Worth

The Sportsmen traveled to Worth Sunday, August 1, to take an easy ball game 20 to 3.

Nasebandt leading off in the fifth, doubled, and scored when Anderson doubled behind him. Ficker was thrown out short to first, Anderson holding second. Lloyd singled Anderson home and advanced to third when Terrell doubled. Firchau was purposely passed to fill the bases and was forced at second by Cummins, Lloyd scoring. Anfield next up tripled Terrell and Cummins home.

Kuech next up promptly doubled, Anfield scoring. Nasebandt up for the second time in the inning blasted a homer to right field that fell a good 400 feet from the plate scoring Kuech ahead of him. Campbell replaced Van-Hinkelum at the mound at this point and promptly walked Anderson after which Ficker struck out to end the inning.

Tinley kept pecking away at Campbell's offerings scoring two more in the sixth, two in the seventh four in the eighth and three in the ninth.

The Sportsmen's batting eyes were certainly sharp, having a total of 20 hits as follows: 8 singles, 8 doubles, 4 triples and 1 homer.

Kenny Firchau again pitched a beautiful game following only 2 scratch singles in the first 7 innings.

He weakened slightly in the eighth when 2 singles, 1 double coupled with an error was good for three Worth runs.

Sunday, August 8th the Sportsmen will travel to Palos Park to play their next regular scheduled game. Time 2:30 p. m.
